Seminar Series

From Professor to Inventor to Entrepreneur:

The Excitement of High Tech Innovation

James Wyant

OSA President-Elect

Dean, College of Optical Sciences

University of Arizona

Formation, growth and eventual selling of a high-tech company will be described from first-hand experience. Both the fun parts and the not-so-fun parts will be discussed. The talk will include the biggest surprises experienced and those factors found to be most important for growing a successful high-tech company.
