

The position is based in Melville, NY (Long Island) with a leading cosmetics/pharmaceutical company. This is a confidential position (hence the company name being withheld).

Salary is about $50K to start. This is an entry level opportunity.

Job Description:

- Design and validate new photography protocols and imaging methods.
- Supervise all clinical testing data function relating to image analysis.
- Maintain existing image analysis programs.
- Perform statistical analysis of all imaging data and other clinical testing data as necessary.
- Maintain and update clinical photography databases and equipment.
- Report results in formal dossiers and informal conversations to upper management.
- Participate in special research projects as assigned.
- Research new technology for clinical claims and studies.

Requirements:

- B.S. degree or equivalent in Computer Science, Computer Programming or Imaging Science
- Working experience with computer programming a plus e.g., IDL and ENVI
- Working experience with image analysis programs a plus.
- Working experience with digital workflow, including capture, profiling, and output devices a plus.
- Knowledge of statistics.
- Additional computer skills including Microsoft Office Suite and Photoshop.

Interested candidates should contact:

Ken Gelfand

Access Scientific

25 Melville Park Road, Suite 115

Melville, NY 11747

Direct: 631-870-1319

Cell: 631-942-3391

Fax: 631-719-9391

kg@access-li.com

www.accessstaffing.com

LinkedIn: <http://www.linkedin.com/in/kengelfand>