Dr. Li Zhang

Li Zhang is an Assistant Professor in the Computer Sciences Department at the University of Wisconsin. He received his B.E. in Automation at Tsinghua University, P. R. China, and his PhD in Computer Science and Engineering at the University of Washington. He worked as a postdoctoral research scientist at Columbia University for two years and joined the faculty at the University of Wisconsin in July 2007. His research interests are in the areas of computer vision and graphics. He has received an NSF CAREER Award, a Sloan Research Fellowship, and a Packard Fellowship for Science and Engineering.