Seminar Series

Imaging the Meaning of Scientific Discoveries

Lee Boot, *Video Artist and
Associate Director, Imaging Research Center,
University of Maryland, Baltimore County*

4pm Wednesday, Jan. 25, 2006

Auditorium of the Center for Imaging Science

The film Euphoria will be presented after the talk at 5pm

Pizza and discussion will follow the screening

What is happiness in America? Is it a matter of culture, or chemistry? How do we create it - and make it last? To consider such questions, Baltimore filmmaker and educator Lee Boot has created Euphoria, an ingenious documentary with "chapters" illustrated by fantastical visual metaphors. Lee Boot will discuss the film and the challenges of conveying the meaning of scientific discoveries through the use of 24 frames per second and 2 million pixels on the screen.
