Cecilia Ovesdotter Alm (Ph.D., University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign) is a computational linguist in the College of Liberal Arts at RIT. Her research interests center on linguistic sensing, subjectivity, and natural language understanding in multimodal and affective computing, for instance as applied to the health domain. She mentors and teaches students in natural language processing and language science at RIT.

3PM, WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 19, 2014
Carlson Auditorium, Center for Imaging Science (CAR)